Teachers, Parents,
Friends of old Helena High,
the bid adieu
you your helpfulness in all the days we're thanking you for the quiet our school days now at the rate to leave
Our school and friends.
Commencement night is here all night.
Our future days may bring us joy and happiness
made at old Helena High

2. Our future days may bring us joy and happiness
he do not know
Surely every one of us will find success
But the friendship will linger on.
They'll never die
So its goodbye Helena High.

THE HORNET

(Formerly Golden Deeds)

Published by the Senior Class of 1953

Volume Seven

Helena High School
Timberlake, North Carolina

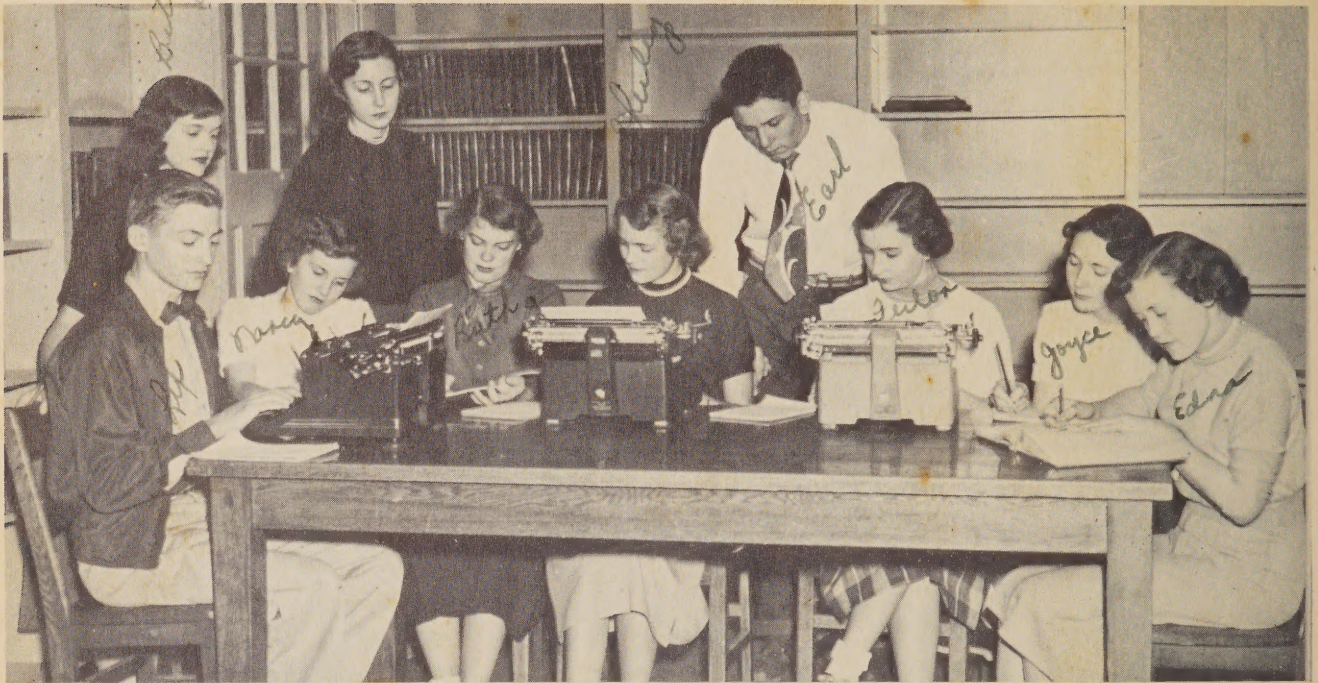

Foreword

We, the Seniors of 1953 are trying to record in this edition of the Hornet our deeds and pictures of our friends and teachers. May this book serve as a record and tend to remind us of the happy days spent in the schools that we have attended. That this volume may serve to stimulate happy recollections for Helena's old students and interesting suggestions for her numerous friends in the earnest hope of those who have worked to make a success of The Hornet.

Dedication

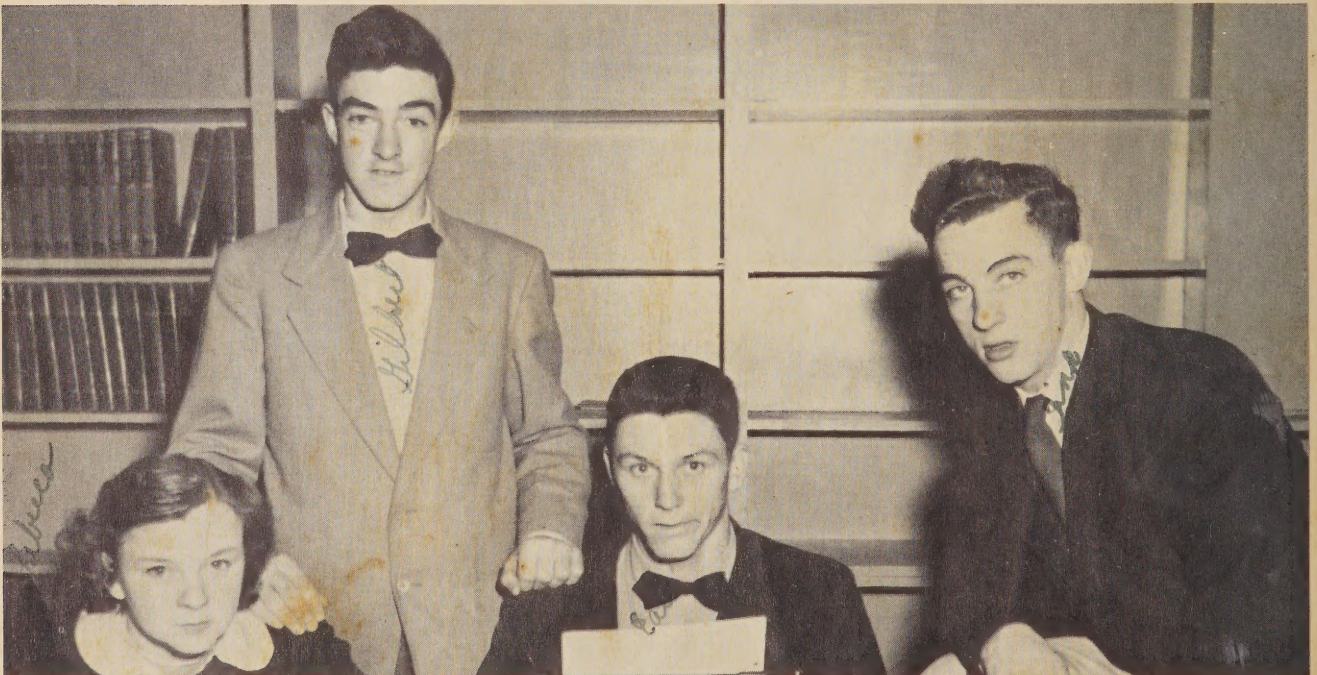

We, the class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-three dedicate our edition of The Hornet to the Boys in Service who have graduated from our schools. In this world, aggression is threatening our very existence. It is you and Boys like you who protect us and defend our rights to "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness". It is Boys like You who give their last full measure of devotion in order that "Government of the People, By the People, and For the People" shall not perish from this earth. We are standing behind you. Our hopes and good wishes are with you wherever you may be.

Class History

We shall never forget the early September of 1941! That was the year we started our school career, some at Hurdle Mills, Mt. Tirzah and Helena. We made a good start under Mrs. Bailey Dickerson, Miss Nannie Monk and Mrs. Helen Foushee.

Our second year with Mrs. Claude Whitfield, Mrs. Penn Noell and Mrs. Fox was spent learning to spell, read, and work arithmetic.

In the third grade, taught by Miss Alma Moore, Miss Iola Day and Miss Wilkerson, we learned much about singing and what giving a play was like.

Mrs. Addie Mae O'Briant, Miss Frances Crowder, Mrs. McGill were our teachers in the fourth grade. After staying in during recess, our behavior began to improve.

We were more familiar with the forty-eight states after completing the fifth grade with Mrs. Hubert Hicks, Miss Lelia Peed and Miss Nina Rogers.

We were all beginning to feel somewhat grown in the sixth grade since we had a sweetheart. Mrs. Lewis Hester, Mrs. Etta Cothran and Miss Nina Rogers were our teachers that year.

In the seventh grade we carried around several books and did very well with the help of Miss Alma Moore, Mrs. Jamie Moore, Mrs. Hassell Painter and Mrs. Etta Cothran. Most of us made our first class trip to Raleigh.

Everyone seemed to be thinking of dating in the eighth grade, but with the help of Mrs. W. K. Babington, Miss Patricia Dancy and Mrs. Penn Noell, we didn't forget all about our books.

We liked high school very much because we had our first night parties and occassional dates. What we didn't understand about high school rules and regulations was soon explained by Mr. A. L. Hendren, Mr. Sidney Perkins and Mrs. T. N. Hobgood.

In the tenth grade many of us went out for basketball, although few of us made the team. Mr. Harry Jenkins, Mr. Sidney Perkins and Mr. Tom Hobgood were our homeroom teachers.

In the eleventh grade we were glad to get our rings. That was a busy year with the Junior-Senior banquets and Junior plays. Our homeroom teachers were Mrs. R. B. Dawes, Mr. Burley Dunn and Mrs. Vivian Heaton.

As seniors, we are looking forward to graduation and are deeply grateful to both our teachers and parents for their kindness and generosity in helping us achieve this goal. We should like to thank Miss Ruth Lunsford, our homeroom teacher, for doing so much to help us during our senior year.

Class Prophecy

Having completed a tour through several big cities, I should like to tell you what the seniors of twenty years ago are doing. As I soared over New York, I saw Wallace Bradsher painting the Empire State Building. Keep up the good work, boy. Maybe someday you'll learn how.

My first stop was in Chicago, Illinois, where I saw Betty Ann Miller. After losing D. E., she began operating a home for "broken hearts."

From Betty Ann I learned that Franklin Mooney, after getting disgusted with girls, decided he'd go to Miami and be satisfied with fishing and sunning.

After talking with her further, I found out that Bernice Blalock was playing for the Washington Redskins and is planning to give F. P. two Cadillacs for her birthday, one for everyday, the other for Sunday.

Traveling through Hollywood, I saw Harold Chambers taking Bonzo's place. It's your bedtime, Harold.

Well, I see Patsy Whitfield has finally gotten her man, since she's sailing the high seas with Captain John Paul Jones.

I always thought Bertha Lou Day wanted to be a teacher, but since Marvin Owens came into her life, she will settle for a two-room hut and twenty-five kids.

Going to one of the studios in Hollywood, I saw Gilbert Wrenn. After being defeated in his love affair with S. M., he is now starring at MGM and is a favorite on T.V., trying to make a second Bing Crosby. Carry on, Gilbert.

After leaving California, I decided to go to Texas. While there, I saw the Rev. Bobby Sartin with his books on his way to wed Mary Emily Satterfield and Carlton Brooks.

Leaving Texas, the next classmate I saw was Lex Clayton. Lex finally decided to be a traveling salesman selling typewriters. But Lex, I thought you were going to keep books for Eisenhower?

While in Oklahoma, I learned Ferlon Perkins finally made up her mind at last. After making her choice of H. L. T., she is doing fine with a house full of kids as she always wanted.

And lo! There was Rebecca Hawkins who is still chief tea-taster at Lipton's laboratory. What happened to W. C., Rebecca?

And who should I see in Indianapolis? Why it was Barbara Jean Rimmer, the preacher's wife and say, she has a good start on that big family she wanted. She has only eight, but give her time.

Shirley Morris and T. T., living in Boston, are telling their grandchildren about their youthful days as a ballet team.

After this last adventure, I decided to come back home and look up all the graduates of 1953 who had not gone to the larger cities. Quite a few are contented to stay right here at home and other places near by.

Lo and behold! the first I saw was Nancy Moore and Randall going into Dr. Hedgepeth's office. Easy with the rolling pin from now on, Nancy.

Well, Frances McCormick, I never thought you would make a farmer's wife, but, well I guess anything can happen.

Traveling towards Helena, I found that Earl Blalock was a barber giving crew hair cuts. Well, I don't guess the styles change very much, Earl.

Much, much to my surprise, I found Barbara Clayton, after losing C. B. is now running a hotel in Helena. Don't take it too sad, Bobbie.

Nettie Ann Lunsford had always wanted to be a nurse, but since H. L. came along on his '50 Ford, she decided she had rather ride in it.

Well, well, who should it be but dear old Lillian Grinstead. How are Sam and the kids, Lil? Better watch Sam or he'll be stepping out on you.

The other day while over at Chapel Hill, I saw Ruth Crumpton enrolling at U. N. C. What happened to East Carolina, Ruth? Would it have anything to do with J. C. D.?

I went in Kress' the other day and I thought that this young man standing at the cosmetics counter looked familiar. I got a closer look and my guess was correct. Buford "Boots" Rhew was buying Zelda some "murmure." I didn't know Zelda used dime store stuff, Boots.

Oh! my goodness! Nannie Dixon has B. O. (Mind you that stands for Bernice Oakley). After trying faithfully, Nan finally got her man.

Glen Garrett is now feeding the animals at the State Fair each year. Don't forget your boots, Glen. As you know, those stables get awfully muddy.

Clarence Burch and Dale Rimmer are now partners in a Real Estate Agency. How's the business world, Burch?

Jasper Dixon and Joyce Tilley, after deciding it was time to get hooked are now running a nice little grocery store. Say, Tink, don't eat up the profit.

The next one that I saw was Dean, better known as "Daddy" Evans. He's running for President on the Republican ticket in '73. Don't put Eisenhower to shame, please.

The last of the boys that I saw was John Chambers, coaching at Helena High. What happened to K. C., John?

Edna Garrett, after failing to get her man is now operating a home for stray cats and dogs in Shakerag. Don't take it too hard, Edna.

My goodness! Who was this operating the biggest department store in Roxboro? As I got a closer look, I could make out the letters W - E - L - C - H DEPT. STORE. Melba and Selba Welch are now operating a group of chain stores throughout the Carolinas. Keep up the good work, girls.

Traveling on a nice little country road one day, I saw a beautiful farm house in the distance. As I drew closer, I saw a matronly young woman weeding her flower garden. I immediately recognized the woman as the former Wilma Wade. She and E. B. say country life is just wonderful.

In the far distance I could hear a faint voice calling me to breakfast. I got up, realizing it was all just a dream.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Seniors of 1953 of Helena High School of Timberlake, North Carolina, in the county of Person, being of unhealthy bodies and minds unbalanced and overtaxed by our conscientious daily studying, do hereby and herewith will and bequeath in the following manner to the following groups and persons the following items:

To the Freshmen, we will our happy high school days and our young enthusiasm of our yesteryears.

We, the Seniors, leave to the Sophomores our feeling of loyalty and cooperation that they may use it to the best advantage.

To the Juniors, we leave our place as dignified Seniors and our love and devotion for our school.

I, Shirley Morris, do hereby will to Eleanor Tillett my many boy friends and hope that she can use them to better advantage than I. Carry on, ole Gal!

I, Ruth Crumpton, will my ability to make and break dates to Howard Rogers.

I, Earl Blalock, will my ability to play right end on the football squad to Howard Rogers. Hang on to those passes.

I, Betty Ann, will my "ladylike" disposition to Shirley Whitfield.

I, Bobby Sartin, will my ability to play left end to J. C. Woody. Get in there and do your best, Boy.

I, Wilma Wade, will my ability to get by with skipping school to Betty Blue Adcock. Luck to you, Blue!

I, Dean Evans, will my soft voice to Stan Moore.

I, Barbara Jean Rimmer, will my ability to flirt to Dean Hawkins.

I, Clarence Burch, will my ability to drive like Neal Hamilton and my athletic ability to Dale Rimmer.

I, Bertha Lou, will my seat in Miss Lunsford's room to Clara Blalock.

I, Barbara Ann Clayton, will my ability to get an engagement ring to Dorothy Dean Hawkins.

I, Franklin Mooney, will my ability to be a champion typist to Tommy Hawkins.

I, Joyce Tilley, will my quiet disposition to Margie Day.

I, Gilbert Wrenn, will my ability to study and get along with the teachers to Hugh Jones and my ability to sing tenor to Randolph Garrett.

I, Frances McCormick, will my ability to dance with my shoes off to Virginia Whitfield Burch.

I, Harold Chambers, will my ability to play basketball to Buddy Veasey. Carry on, Buddy!

I, Nannie Dixon, will to Wilma Oakley my ability to make dates and break them.

I, Nettie Ann Lunsford, will to Kathleen Stanfield my ability to drive a "Hot Rod Ford". Drive on, Kathleen!

I, Lex Clayton, will my ability to study to T. U. Elliot.

I, Lillian Grinstead, will my Jolly disposition to Frances Perkins.

I, Selba Welch, will my dancing ability to Barbara Mooney.

I, Bernice Blalock, will my ability to play quarterback to Dale Rimmer. Show your stuff, Dale!!!

I, Mary Emily Satterfield, will my knowledge of French to Vernon Huff.

I, Carlton Brooks, do hereby will to Miss Wilma Berry my ability to make speeches.

I, Jasper Dixon, will my knowledge of history to Miss Lunsford.

I, Nancy Moore, will my dignified disposition to Myrtle Eakes.

I, Buford Rhew, will my economics book to Hugh Jones.

I, Rebecca Hawkins, will my silly giggles to Janie Rimmer. Giggle on, Janie.

I, John Chambers, will my ability to catch baseball to James Duncan.

To Eunida Welch, I, Edna Garrett, will my ability to drive school bus No. 21. Watch "that" Ford, Eunida!

I, Glen Garrett, will my ability to flirt with all girls to Brodie Cozart and my typing speed to Dale Rimmer.

I, Ferlon Perkins, will to Eunida Welch my trust in the men. Don't believe too much 'cause sometimes it hurts!

I, Melba Welch, will my ability to play basketball to Myrtle Eakes. Don't be too clumsy and harm those handsome legs, Myrtle!

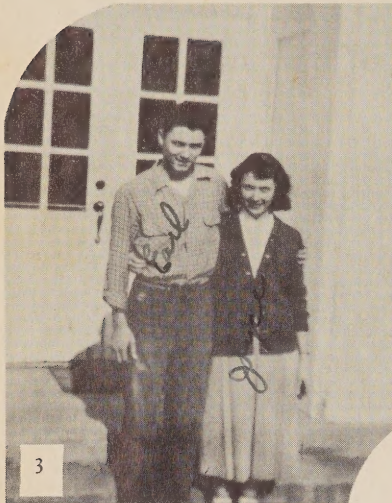

I, Patsy Whitfield, will my short stature to Betty Blue Adcock.

I, Wallace Bradsher, will to Tommy Hawkins my love and devotion to Helena High School.

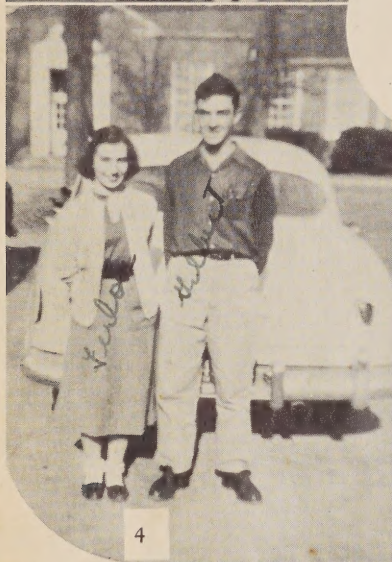

Signed, witnessed and sealed this 7th day of January, 1953 by Ferlon Perkins.

Junior Class History

We, the Junior Class of '53, entered high school in 1950. The highlights of the year were weiner roasts, appearing in musical contests, participating in negro minstrels, visiting Morehead Planetarium, and getting accustomed to the hardships of high school.

As sophomores we began taking a larger part in school activities. The sophomores at Hurdle Mills organized the Hurdle Hoppers Club as an English project, the biology class went to the Morehead Planetarium and the American Tobacco Manufacturing Company. The Helena students took part in a spring concert and had an Easter party at Moore's Mill. The agriculture students visited the cigarette factory. The sophomores at Mt. Tirzah had a very enjoyable year. As class projects, the history class went to see the movie "Quo Vadis" and the biology class went to Raleigh and Cameron Village.

And now we are Juniors. In the fall, the sophomores of '52 of Hurdle Mills and Mt. Tirzah joined the sophomores of '52 of Helena. We now make up the class of '53. With our new friends we began the year by going to the State Fair. Later we enjoyed a weiner roast which we held at our president's home, Shirley Whitfield. In December, under the direction of our teacher, Miss Berry, the Class presented a play, "Damsels In Distress." Twelve members participated in the play. After much waiting, we received our class rings on December 19. At Christmas the class had a party and some of the members took part in a Christmas concert. Others enjoyed a New Year's Eve Party given by the "H" Club.

Now we are anxiously awaiting and planning our Junior-Senior Banquet which we will have in the spring.
